Precious Metals: Record Highs & Cautious Gains

In the domestic market (MCX), gold and silver have hit unprecedented levels. Gold is currently hovering near the Rs. 1.53 lakh per 10-gram mark, while MCX silver has surged past Rs. 2.45 lakh per kg.

On the global stage, the momentum is slightly more restrained due to a powerhouse US Dollar, which has climbed to 99.3.

- Spot Gold: Trading marginally higher above $4,710 per ounce.
- Spot Silver: Initially rose to $76 per ounce before facing pressure and slipping toward the $75.6 range

Crude Oil: Fueling Inflation Fears

As the conflict enters its ninth week, energy markets are on edge. Brent Crude has breached $106 per barrel, while US WTI rose above $95. These prices reflect the severe supply risk posed by the effective closure of the Strait of Hormuz, a critical chokepoint for global oil transit.

The failure of a second round of peace talks has dashed hopes for a swift resolution.

- Diplomatic Collapse: President Trump cancelled a high-profile meeting in Pakistan that was intended to bring US and Iranian envoys to the table.

- ◇ XAUT Mcap : 2.5BS
- ◇ Tether Gold reserves as of 20 Jan 2026 - 16,250 Kgs of Gold

- The Naval Standoff: Tehran refuses to negotiate while the US Navy blockade remains in place.
- The Nuclear Factor: While Iran expressed a willingness to reopen the Strait of Hormuz, they have shown no intent to abandon their nuclear program—a non-negotiable demand for Washington.

Investors are now bracing for a heavy week of policy decisions.

- The Fed Transition: The Federal Reserve is expected to hold rates steady this Wednesday. This meeting is particularly significant as it likely marks Jerome Powell’s final session as Chair, with Kevin Warsh anticipated to succeed him in May.
- Global Policy: Decisions from the ECB, Bank of England, and Bank of Japan are also due this week.

With inflation risks rising alongside oil prices, there is growing concern that central banks may be forced to keep interest rates higher for longer to combat the economic fallout of the Middle East crisis.

Market Sentiment: Fragile and uncertain. The “nerve-wracking” tension in the Middle East continues to act as the primary driver for both commodities and currency volatility.

Akoirah Records Strong Growth Across Key Markets With Festive Diamond Draw Campaign

Akshaya Tritiya Campaign Drives Record Footfall and Highlights Growing Demand For Experiential Retail and Design-Led Diamond Jewellery

Akoirah reported strong sales growth and increased footfall across its stores in Mumbai, Navi Mumbai, and Pune following its festive campaign ahead of Akshaya Tritiya. Pune recorded growth of up to 307%, while Vashi saw a 103% rise, reflecting robust demand during the peak festive period.

The campaign centred on a diamond jewellery draw linked to every purchase, drawing good participation across all store locations. High-footfall stores such as Palladium and Pune saw particularly strong engagement, with the initiative adding a distinctive element to the in-store experience during the festive period.

Customer preferences during the campaign leaned towards design-led pieces, with solitaire rings and earrings among the most sought-after categories. The trend points to a growing appetite for jewellery that is suited to both occasion wear and everyday styling.

Store teams reported strong customer interest and positive response throughout the campaign period, with Palladium and Pune standing out in terms of overall performance. The campaign concluded on April 19 with winner announcements held in-store across locations.

The results point to increasing customer interest in experiential retail formats, where the quality of the in-store experience plays as important a role as the product itself.

“Namita Kothari, Founder, Akoirah by Augmont said; Akshaya Tritiya has always been a significant moment for us, and this year’s response exceeded our expectations. The lucky draw added a layer of excitement to the buying experience, and it was encouraging to see customers engage with it so enthusiastically across all our locations. The numbers from Pune and Palladium are particularly gratifying, and they reinforce our belief that a well-designed in-store experience can drive real results.”

The results point to increasing customer interest in experiential retail formats, where the quality of the in-store experience plays as important a role as the product itself.

MCX Gold and Silver Face Volatility Amid Geopolitical Shifts

The Multi Commodity Exchange (MCX) observed a cautious start to Tuesday's trading session as precious metals reacted to stalled diplomatic negotiations and a pivotal week for global monetary policy. Gold and silver futures faced downward pressure as market participants recalibrated their positions ahead of several major central bank announcements.

In domestic trading, silver experienced the most significant adjustment, while gold maintained a consolidated range:

- MCX Silver (May 2026 Delivery): Declined by Rs 1,334 (0.5%) to Rs 2,40,490 per kilogram. This follows a substantial drop of Rs 2,450 in the previous session.
- MCX Gold (June 2026 Delivery): Remained largely unchanged, trading at Rs 1,51,555 per 10 grams, after a nearly Rs 1,000 decline in the prior session.
- Global Spot Markets: In contrast to domestic futures, spot silver rose marginally by 0.5% to $75.91 per ounce, while Platinum gained 0.7% to reach $1,997.22.

The current market sentiment is heavily influenced by a shift in diplomatic relations between the United States and Iran. Hopes for a de-escalation in the Middle East faded over the weekend following the cancellation of a high-level U.S. envoy visit to Islamabad.

Simultaneously, investors are turning their attention to the following key economic milestones:

Global Central Bank Watch: Market participants are monitoring the Bank of Japan, the European Central Bank, and the Bank of England for signals on how regional conflicts may impact the global interest rate outlook

Expert Analysis and Long-Term Outlook

Despite the short-term pullback, analysts maintain a bullish outlook for the remainder of 2026. While the current conflict is unlikely to durably impair global economic growth, investment demand for gold is expected to strengthen as expectations for further U.S. monetary easing return. The core pillars of the gold rally-including sustained central bank acquisitions, U.S. debt concerns, and currency debasement worries-remain firmly in place.

Modest Uptick in Gold and Silver Prices as Global Macroeconomic Factors Continue to Influence Market Sentiment

There was a modest uptick in gold and silver prices as global macroeconomic factors—specifically crude oil volatility and a firming U.S. Dollar—continue to influence market sentiment. Gold and silver showed the following movements on the Multi-Commodity Exchange (MCX): Gold (MCX): Traded at Rs 1,48,745 per 10 grams, representing a 0.14% increase from its previous close. Silver (MCX): Surged to Rs 2,38,699 per kilogram, an appreciation of 0.57%.

This follows earlier morning volatility (09:37 IST), where gold briefly dipped 0.08% to Rs 1,48,410 before recovering in response to shifting global indicators.

The upward movement in precious metals coincides with Brent crude oil prices stabilizing near the $110 per barrel mark. This sustained pricing follows the recent U.S. decision to extend the blockade around Iranian ports, fueling supply-side concerns. The surge in energy costs has concurrently kept the U.S. Dollar elevated, creating a complex trading environment for domestic commodities.

Brent crude at $110 remains a significant headwind for the domestic economy. As long as energy prices remain at these elevated levels, investors anticipate a persistent downside risk to India's growth and a heightened upside risk to inflation.

While futures markets indicate a broad upward trend, retail gold prices continue to vary across Indian cities based on local taxes, duties, and purity levels (22K vs. 24K). Investors are advised to monitor the Federal Reserve's upcoming announcement, as it will provide further direction for interest rate trajectories and the subsequent valuation of non-yielding assets like gold.

Precious Metals at the Crossroads Geopolitics, Inflation, and Key Technical Levels AUGMONT BULLION REPORT

Crisis Disrupting Energy Supplies, Pushing Inflation Risks Higher, Increasing The Probability Of Central Bank Interest Rate Hikes

Safe-Haven Dynamics – Gold and Silver prices are consolidating as investors assess the possibility of U.S.-Iran diplomatic talks and the uncertain future of the current ceasefire. Both nations are scheduled for peace negotiations in Islamabad this week. However, the ceasefire came under threat on Monday following the seizure of a cargo vessel, raising doubts about whether talks will proceed as planned.

- Geopolitical Developments– The ongoing Middle East conflict has caused a significant disruption to energy supplies, pushing inflation risks higher and increasing the probability of central bank interest rate hikes - both of which create headwinds for gold prices. Adding to the uncertainty, President Donald Trump indicated he will not extend the truce if no agreement is reached before its deadline, and has stated that the Strait of Hormuz will stay closed until a deal is finalized.
- Macro-economic Signals – Markets are closely watching for clarity on whether the Islamabad talks will proceed, and if so, whether they result in a ceasefire extension or a broader peace agreement. Gold's price direction will continue to be driven by Middle East outcomes and their downstream effects on energy costs and inflation expectations.

Technical Triggers

- Gold is trading in the range of $4750 (~ Rs 152,500) and $4850 (~Rs 155,000) from past few days. Either side breakout or breakdown will give 3-4% directional move.
- Silver is trading in the range of $78 (~ Rs 248,000) and $81 (~Rs 257,000) from past few days. Either side breakout or breakdown from this band will give 3-4% price swing.

abaxx. Exchange
SMARTER MARKETS FOR GLOBAL GOLD TRADING

Gold has earned trust across borders for millennia, but the systems that support its trade haven't caught up to today's global flows.

Despite Asia's dominant share of physical gold demand, pricing and settlement infrastructure remains anchored to legacy contracts, delivery locations, and market hours in New York and London. The result: persistent price mismatches, inefficient hedging, and growing friction for the participants who rely on physical gold every day.

Abaxx Exchange and Abaxx Spot are introducing co-located infrastructure in Singapore, including a physically-deliverable kilobar futures contract and a spot physical gold pool, to address these structural gaps and realign global gold markets with the realities of 21st-century trade.

Physically-Deliverable Futures Designed for the Kilobar Market

Abaxx Singapore Gold Futures are purpose-built for the needs of Asia's physical bullion trade. The contract is U.S. dollar-denominated, kilobar-sized, and physically deliverable into approved vaults in Singapore, one of the world's leading gold trading hubs.

Legacy futures contracts remain tied to the formats and delivery standards of Western markets, even as kilobars have become the dominant settlement unit in Asia. By aligning contract specifications with regional trading norms, Abaxx Singapore Gold Futures offer a benchmark better suited to all firms managing price risk in the real physical market in Asia.

As the only physically-deliverable, U.S. dollar-denominated gold futures contract based in Singapore, this product provides a regionally relevant tool for price discovery, hedging, and delivery, while offering global access to a contract designed for today's trade flows.

Abaxx Spot: Modern Infrastructure for Physical Gold

Launched alongside the Gold Kilobar contract, Abaxx Spot is a physically-allocated precious metals trading platform built to mitigate settlement risk in physical transactions. The platform facilitates secure physical transactions, efficient OTC transfers of kilobars, and transparent access through a pre-funded central limit order book (CLOB).

Abaxx Spot expands participation in the global gold market by enabling users to settle trades and transfers electronically through a physically-allocated gold pool, with bullion held in approved Singapore vaults.

By co-locating spot and futures infrastructure in a single jurisdiction and settlement format, Abaxx supports convergence between physical and financial markets, aligning delivery, settlement, and risk management across the trade lifecycle.

Why Now: A Turning Point for Global Gold Markets

Gold is playing a renewed role in capital markets, not just as a store of value, but as a strategic asset for central banks, institutional portfolios, and commercial hedgers navigating geopolitical and monetary uncertainty. Prices have reached all-time highs, and central bank accumulation continues to exceed historical norms.

Yet while Asia now accounts for the majority of global bullion demand, gold's market infrastructure remains fragmented. Benchmarks and settlement systems still reflect Western formats, hours, and assumptions, misaligned with where demand is strongest.

Abaxx addresses this disconnect by anchoring both price discovery and settlement infrastructure in Singapore, and by structuring its contracts around kilobars – the preferred unit for Asia's bullion trade. The result is a more resilient, integrated system that reduces the friction between futures and physical markets, offering tools that reflect how gold is used and traded today.

Building the Future of Gold

Gold continues to play a vital role in the global financial system – from central bank reserves and institutional portfolios to real-world settlement and collateral. But the systems that support gold trading and delivery remain outdated and disconnected from the way gold is actually used today.

Abaxx Exchange and Abaxx Spot introduce a new model: physically-deliverable futures, a digitally integrated spot pool, and shared settlement infrastructure in Asia's primary trading hub. Together, they form the foundation for more transparent, resilient, and smarter gold markets for the 21st century.

Benefits for Market Participants

For physical trading desks, hedgers, and bullion market professionals, the Abaxx system delivers tools designed to reduce operational friction, enhance price alignment, and support effective participation in modern global gold markets.

- Efficient Settlement and Transfer: Trade and title transfer to physical gold electronically through Abaxx Spot, with delivery and storage in approved Singapore vaults. Streamline post-trade operations and reduce reliance on fragmented OTC workflows.
- Aligned Hedging Instruments: Abaxx's Gold Singapore Futures contract reflects Asia's kilobar market and regional delivery conventions, improving basis accuracy and providing better tools for managing directional and physical exposure.
- Integrated Spot and Futures Access: Co-located infrastructure for spot and futures trading enables convergence between price discovery, hedging, and delivery, removing the need for cross-regional arbitrage between New York, London, and Asia.
- Transparent Market Participation: Abaxx Spot's pre-funded CLOB model enables direct access, transparent pricing, and lower counterparty risk, enhancing trust and participation across global and regional users.
- Global Infrastructure, Built for Asia: While globally accessible, the Abaxx system is tailored to the product standards and settlement practices of Asia's physical gold market, where kilobars dominate and demand continues to grow.

Geopolitical Ceasefire and Fed Signals Shape Gold and Silver Outlook AUGMONT BULLION REPORT

- Safe-Haven Dynamics – Gold is consolidating around $4750 and Silver around $78, recouping some losses from the previous session after President Trump's unilateral announcement extending the ceasefire with Iran. However, a second round of peace talks has broken down. It remains unclear whether Iran or U.S. ally Israel will formally accept the extended ceasefire, which entered its third week, introducing continued uncertainty into safe-haven demand.
- Geopolitical Developments – Trump indicated further military action would be paused pending a new Iranian proposal and the completion of negotiations. Separately, Vice President JD Vance scrapped a scheduled visit to Islamabad after Iran conveyed through Pakistan its refusal to participate in the proposed talks. Iran additionally maintained that the Strait of Hormuz would remain closed as long as the U.S. Navy continues intercepting vessels in the region, sustaining a key supply-chain risk factor.
- Macro-economic Signals – Precious metal price action continues to be driven primarily by ceasefire-related headlines and broader liquidity conditions. The ceasefire extension has led markets to interpret the situation as a partial de-escalation, reducing immediate crisis premiums. Additional downward pressure on metals emerged from the Senate confirmation hearing of Federal Reserve Chair nominee Kevin Warsh, whose commitment to institutional independence signaled a potentially hawkish policy posture going forward.

Technical Triggers

- Gold is trading in the range of $4650 (~ Rs 151,500) and $4850 (~Rs 155,000) over the past few days. Either a breakout or breakdown will give a 3-4% directional move.
- Silver is trading in the range of $76 (~ Rs 242,500) and $81 (~Rs 257,000) over the past few days. Either a breakout or breakdown from this band will give a 3-4% price swing.

FED, Iran, and The Rupee- Three Forces Shaping Bullion's Next Move AUGMONT BULLION REPORT

A Firmer Dollar and Rising Treasury Yields Are Increasing The Opportunity Cost Of Holding Gold.

The bullion market faces competing forces: US–Iran tensions at the Strait of Hormuz provide geopolitical support, while a stronger dollar, elevated Treasury yields, and prolonged Fed rate tightness suppress prices. Gold recovered modestly to $4,700 after diplomatic signals emerged. The Fed's April 29 decision remains the critical macro trigger. India's rupee weakened to Rs. 94/dollar amid rising crude costs. Central banks globally continue accumulating gold, though at a slower pace. Institutional ETF demand stays structurally strong.

The dominant market driver last week was the intensifying US–Iran conflict centred on the Strait of Hormuz. Iran restricted commercial shipping through the waterway and allegedly attacked foreign vessels. The US, in turn, blockaded Iranian ports - a move Iran labelled a ceasefire violation. President Trump publicly directed the Navy to engage vessels deploying mines in the strait. Separately, US forces intercepted an Iranian oil supertanker in the Indian Ocean, escalating maritime tensions further.

This reduces gold's attractiveness relative to yield-bearing assets. Consequently, a stronger US dollar and persistent rate pressure continue to suppress gold prices despite the geopolitical backdrop.

continue to suppress gold prices despite the geopolitical backdrop. While such geopolitical disruptions typically strengthen gold's safe-haven appeal, the bullion market remained constrained. Central banks are maintaining tight monetary policy due to energy-driven inflation, keeping interest rates elevated.

By Friday, gold recovered modestly, trading above $4,700, reflecting cautious optimism following diplomatic signals — Iranian Foreign Minister Abbas Araghchi's scheduled visit to Islamabad, with Pakistani officials suggesting a meaningful peace breakthrough was probable.

The US Federal Reserve is now projected to hold rates steady through 2026, abandoning earlier expectations of two rate cuts. A rate hike remains a live possibility as policymakers monitor the conflict's inflationary spillovers. The Fed's April 29 meeting is now the single most-watched macro event, likely to set gold's near-term directional bias.

India's rupee depreciated to approximately Rs. 94 per dollar, a three-week low, driven by rising crude oil import costs. The currency weakened nearly 1% week-on-week. The Reserve Bank of India intervened by selling dollars to stabilise the exchange rate, but persistent demand from oil importers offset these efforts, keeping the rupee under structural pressure.

Sovereign gold accumulation remained a sustained global trend. Central banks in China, India, Poland, and Turkey continued adding physical gold reserves. January 2026 purchases slowed to 5 tonnes against a 2025 monthly average of 27 tonnes, though demand broadened geographically, with Malaysia and South Korea re-entering the market. Uzbekistan led buying; Russia recorded the largest sales at 9 tonnes. China continued expanding its reserves.

Institutional demand remains structurally robust in 2026. A record $89 billion flowed into gold ETFs in 2025, and the SPDR Gold Trust now holds 1,073 metric tons, reflecting significant portfolio realignment toward precious metals. In February, gold ETFs attracted $5.3 billion in fresh inflows, led by North America and Asia, though European funds saw $1.8 billion in net outflows.

China's silver imports totalled 206.76 tonnes in January–February 2026 the highest in eight years - tightening global supply and lifting prices. In India, industrial buyers absorbed price dips, providing a floor during speculative sell-offs. Wedding season demand added further consumption-side support, with household jewellery purchases rising across major cities.

Overall sentiment toward bullion remains cautious. A firmer dollar and rising Treasury yields are increasing the opportunity cost of holding gold. The key upcoming catalysts are the Fed's April 29 rate decision, US Q1 GDP data on April 30, and any definitive progress in US–Iran diplomacy. Each event carries the potential to sharply reverse current price trends.

Technically, gold faces resistance at $4,850 (~ Rs. 1,55,000). A confirmed break above this level could open a path toward $5,000 (~ Rs. 1,60,000). Immediate support is established at $4,650 (~ Rs. 1,51,000).

Silver prices are consolidating in the range of $73(~ Rs. 235,000) and $82(~ Rs. 2,58,000). Either a breakout or breakdown will give a further price move.

Precious Metals Under Pressure: Diplomatic Shifts, Geopolitical Risk, and Central Bank Outlook AUGMONT BULLION REPORT

- Safe-Haven Dynamics – Gold is trading below $4650 as investors evaluate ongoing diplomatic efforts to resolve the US–Iran conflict. The crisis has caused a significant energy supply disruption and heightened inflation concerns. Iran has proposed halting its operations in the Strait of Hormuz in exchange for a complete ceasefire and removal of the US blockade on Iranian ports.
- Geopolitical Developments – Tehran has submitted a new proposal to Washington via Pakistani intermediaries, offering to reopen the Strait of Hormuz conditional on the US lifting its blockade, while postponing discussions on its nuclear program. Washington remains skeptical and is likely to respond with counter-proposals in the near term. Iran's nuclear ambitions remain the central point of disagreement between the two sides.
- Macro-economic Signals – Markets are also focused on upcoming monetary policy decisions by the Fed, ECB, and BOJ this week. Persistent energy price inflation, driven by Middle East tensions, has strengthened expectations that central banks may maintain or further raise interest rates. This monetary tightening outlook is exerting downward pressure on gold prices.

Technical Triggers

- Gold has broken the important support of $4650 (~ Rs 151,000), the next target is $4550 (~ Rs 147,500).
- Silver is on the verge of breaking $73 (~ Rs 235,000). If prices sustain below this level, the next target is $70 (~ Rs 225,000).

WGC Gold Demand Trends- Q1 2026: Bar and Coin Buying Drove Q1 Demand

Total Q1 gold demand, including OTC, was 2% higher y/y at 1,231t. This modest growth in volumes, combined with gold's exceptional price rise, generated a 74% jump in the value of quarterly demand to a record US$193bn.

Bar and coin demand of 474t (+42%) was the second-highest quarter on record. Asian investors led the charge, hoovering up gold investment products.

Buying of gold-backed ETFs continued in Q1 (+62t), but at a lower rate than the very strong Q1'25 (+230t) following sizable outflows from US funds in March.

Amid record high gold prices, jewellery demand volumes remained under pressure (-23% y/y), while levels of spend again increased (+31%), signalling continued positive sentiment towards gold jewellery.

Central banks bought 244t (+3% y/y) of gold on a net basis in Q1 despite a visible uptick in selling activity during the quarter.

Demand for gold used in technology edged 1% higher to 82t, fuelled largely by the continued growth in AI infrastructure.

Highlights

- The LBMA (PM) gold price set a new quarterly average record of US$4,873/oz. The price hit a historical high of US$5,405/oz in January, followed by a notable correction. During Q1, the gold price returned 6%.
- The supply of gold increased in Q1 by 2% y/y to 1,231t. Modest growth in mine production, together with a 5% uptick in recycling, generated the increase.
- Investment demand now far exceeds fabrication. Weaker jewellery demand alongside growing investor interest in gold has changed the composition of demand in recent years.

Outlook

- Geopolitics remain front and centre in our outlook for gold demand in 2026. Our view remains that investment and central bank demand will be supported by ongoing geopolitical risk, with further investment impetus from elevated inflation and persistent high gold prices. Jewellery demand will remain under pressure for similar reasons, albeit that spending will likely remain resilient.
