India's First Private Gold Mine Since Independence Opens In Kurnool, Andhra Pradesh

Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister N Chandrababu Naidu inaugurated independent India's first private integrated greenfield gold mining project at Jonnagiri in Kurnool district, marking a historic milestone in the country's mining sector. The launch brings commercial-scale domestic gold production back into focus at a time when gold prices are at historic highs. Until now, India's only operational gold mines were located at Kolar and Hutti in Karnataka, both established during the British era. While the Hutti mine continues to be operated by a Karnataka government enterprise, mining at Kolar was suspended long ago. No new gold mining project had been commissioned since Independence, making Jonnagiri a watershed moment for the sector.

The Jonnagiri project has been developed by Geo Mysore Services India Pvt. Ltd. and Deccan Gold Mines, backed by Lloyds Metals and Energy and the Thriveni Group, with a total investment exceeding Rs 405 crore. Naidu inaugurated the mine, laid the foundation stone for its second expansion unit, and flagged off heavy vehicles transporting gold-bearing ore for processing. He also visited a training centre on site where local women and youth are being trained on simulator machines to operate heavy mining equipment.

The project is spread across approximately 598 hectares, covering the villages of Jonnagiri, Erragudi, and Pagidirayi in Tuggali mandal. Certified gold resources currently stand at around 13.1 tonnes, with exploration pointing to the potential for significantly larger reserves across the broader mineralised belt. The mine has an estimated operational life of 15 years, with initial annual production of 400 kilograms, set to scale up to 900 kilograms in the next phase and eventually reach two tonnes per year.

Addressing a public meeting after the inauguration, Naidu invoked the region's ancient heritage, noting that Jonnagiri was once known as Swarnagiri and flourished as a centre of mineral wealth during the reign of Emperor Ashoka and later under Sri Krishnadevaraya.

Naidu also outlined an ambitious long-term vision, saying the state aimed to scale annual gold production to 50 metric tonnes, significantly reducing India's dependence on imports. India currently imports between 700 and 1,000 tonnes of gold each year, making gold the country's second-largest import after crude oil.

In a symbolic gesture, Geo Mysore Services and Deccan Gold Mines presented the state government with a map of Andhra Pradesh crafted from gold produced at Jonnagiri. The Chief Minister announced the memento would be displayed at the proposed museum in Amaravati. The first batch of gold from the mine was handed over to jewellery companies from the state.

Consumers Are Offloading Gold For Cash On Fears Of Further Decline In Prices

A growing conviction that the precious metal has peaked is driving a historic selling spree across India, the world's second-largest gold consumer. Indian consumers offloaded nearly 50 metric tons of old gold during the April-June quarter—a staggering 43% surge compared to the same period last year. The rush to liquidate highlights a fundamental shift in how Indian consumers view their gold: less as an emotional keepsake, and more as a tactical financial asset to be traded for profit.

While gold prices have retreated from an all-time high of roughly Rs 1.8 lakh per 10 grams ($2,160) earlier this year, they remain elevated at around Rs 1.4 lakh. Fears that the market could cool further—potentially dropping to Rs 1.2 lakh—have triggered a wave of profit-taking. Instead of the traditional practice of exchanging old necklaces and bangles for new designs, consumers are increasingly demanding cold, hard cash. This behavior is fueling a boom for India's organized gold recycling sector. Major scrap-buying operations are reporting unprecedented volume growth. Muthoot Exim, a prominent player in the space, saw a 40% year-over-year volume spike across its network of more than 100 "Gold Point" centers.

The surge in domestic recycling comes at a critical time for India's macroeconomic balance. The country is overwhelmingly dependent on foreign bullion to satisfy domestic demand, splurging an estimated $72.4 billion on gold imports in the fiscal year ended March 2026. By pushing idle gold back into the supply chain, the recycling boom provides a vital domestic cushion, reducing the country's reliance on fresh mining imports.

For global gold markets, the behavior of the Indian consumer remains a crucial swing factor. If the selling pressure persists, a steady stream of recycled domestic supply could cap India's import appetite, potentially easing broader global price pressures.

Correction In Gold Prices Prompts Margin Calls On Some Bullet Repayment Gold Loans

NBFCs, have started shifting toward EMI based gold loan products to reduce LTV vulnerability

A sharp correction in gold prices over recent months has prompted margin calls on some bullet-repayment gold loans, while EMI (regular-instalment) loans have stayed largely insulated; this dynamic and recent RBI rules (effective April 1, 2026) have pushed non-bank lenders to migrate toward EMI-based products to reduce future margin-call risk.

Bullet loans keep principal outstanding until maturity, so a fall in gold's market value raises the loan-to-value (LTV) ratio quickly and can trigger margin calls or demands for extra collateral; lenders have invoked margin calls in some cases as prices fell over five months.

EMI loans reduce outstanding principal every month, creating an equity cushion that buffers the borrower against modest price corrections and so have remained largely unaffected in the recent correction.

Market participants attribute the correction to geopolitical events and renewed concerns about interest-rate trajectories, which reduced safe-haven flows and weighed on prices.

Key elements of the new RBI gold-loan framework (effective April 1, 2026)

- Tiered LTV caps: 85% for loans up to Rs 2.5 lakh, 80% for Rs 2.5–5 lakh, and 75% above Rs 5 lakh. This standardises collateral limits across lenders.

The Essential Gathering for the International Bullion Industry.

- Requirement that borrowers repay principal and interest within 12 months (ending the widespread practice of rolling by paying only interest) and stricter auction/valuation and borrower-protection rules (30-day average or previous-day price for valuation, faster release of gold on closure, mandated disclosures, auction reserve pricing rules).
- LTV for bullet loans must be calculated on the total amount repayable at maturity, which makes bullet structures less attractive under the new framework.

Industry response and product shift

- Non-bank lenders (NBFCs, smaller finance companies) have started shifting toward EMI-based gold-loan products to reduce LTV vulnerability and margin-call exposure, and to align with RBI's consumer-protection and repayment-discipline aims.
- Lenders say they can manage risks on short-term loans and through active LTV monitoring, but the structural incentive now favours EMI schedules because they steadily reduce outstanding balances.

WGC Central Banks Gold Reserves Survey Central Banks Set To Step Up Gold Buying Over The Next Year

Central banks gold reserves survey - central banks set to step up gold buying over the next year

The World Gold Council's annual Central Banks Gold Reserves Survey reveals that 89% of reserve managers expect global central bank gold holdings to continue increasing over the next 12 months. With gold recently overtaking US government bonds as the top reserve asset, the findings point to continued momentum in central bank demand for gold.

That confidence is also reflected in central banks' own reserve plans: a record 45% of the reserve managers surveyed said they expect to increase their own institutions' gold holdings over the next 12 months. Additionally, 83% of respondents believe gold will account for a higher share of total reserves five years from now, up from 76% last year.

Taken together, these findings point to gold's increasingly strategic role within reserve portfolios. Today, 93% of respondents report holding gold, up from 81% last year. Meanwhile, views of the US dollar's future role in reserves were less positive, with 74% of respondents expecting the dollar's share of global reserves to be lower in five years.

These shifts are reflected in how central banks think about gold's role in reserves. When asked about the factors driving their decision to hold gold, a record 90% of respondents cited gold's performance during times of crisis. Long-term store of value (84%) and portfolio diversification (82%) upliftment, we work to create meaningful, long-term impact and shared progress. Today, MMTC-PAMP stands at the intersection of tradition, innovation, and responsibility. Every product it crafts carries a legacy of purity and a promise of accountability.

rounded out the top three. Notably, gold's role as a geopolitical risk hedge featured prominently, particularly among emerging market and developing economy respondents (85%), while the proportion citing historical legacy as a reason to hold gold continued to fall to 46%, from 62% in 2025.

The survey also highlighted a new trend: central banks are increasingly changing where their gold is stored. Nine per cent of respondents said they had increased domestic storage in the past 12 months, up from 5% last year, and 10% said they had diversified their overseas storage locations, up from 2%. This pattern is set to continue with, 7% planning to increase domestic storage and 9% planning to diversify overseas locations in the coming year. The Bank of England remains the most popular vaulting location at 57%, with domestic storage second at 49%.

Shaokai Fan, Global Head of Central Banks & Head of Asia-Pacific (ex-China)-WGC, commented, "This year's survey sends a clear message: central bank demand for gold remains on an upward trajectory. A record number of respondents plan to add gold to their own reserves in the next year, while a large majority expect global official sector holdings to keep rising. What stands out is the shift in how central banks think about gold. Fewer see it as a legacy holding; more see it as an active, strategic allocation in an environment defined by geopolitical uncertainty and reserve diversification."

Gold and Silver At Make-Or-Break Levels: Three Forces Driving The Slide AUGMONT BULLION REPORT

- Price Movement – Gold and silver are extending their losing streak despite a temporary US-Iran peace deal, pressured by three concurrent forces. First, a broad risk-off wave triggered by a sharp selloff in AI stocks is spilling over into precious metals. Second, increasingly hawkish signals from the Federal Reserve have pushed the probability of a December 2026 rate hike to 86%, lifting the Dollar Index above the 101 mark and weighing on gold. Third, the unwinding of yen carry trades - as USDJPY slides to a 40-year low on rising Japanese interest rates - is generating ripple-effect selling across safe-haven assets.
- Geopolitical Developments - US President Donald Trump stated on Tuesday that Iran had agreed to indefinite nuclear inspections. Tehran promptly disputed this, casting fresh doubt on the deal's durability and keeping geopolitical uncertainty elevated.
- Macro-Economic Signals – Rate hike expectations are building rapidly. The probability of a July hike has jumped to 36% from just 8.5% a week ago, while September odds have surged from 29.1% to above 70%, per CME FedWatch. Markets now await Thursday's US PCE data - the Fed's preferred inflation gauge - for further policy direction.

Technical Triggers

- Gold is testing its lowest levels of 2026, hovering near the critical support zone of $4,000–$4,060 (~Rs. 1,43,000–Rs. 1,44,500). This zone carries a 90% probability of holding and triggering a rebound, given deeply oversold conditions. A breakdown - though unlikely - would open a decline toward $3,600 (~Rs. 1,30,000), a level that would represent a short-lived dip and a strong long opportunity.
- Silver mirrors this setup, consolidating around $60–$61 (~Rs. 2,20,000- Rs. 2,24,000). The same 90% support probability applies. A breach could extend losses toward $54-55 (~Rs. 2,00,000), but any such move is expected to be brief and a buying opportunity.

Working within the investment, jewellery and technology sectors as well as engaging in government affairs, its purpose is to provide industry leadership whilst stimulating and sustaining demand for silver. With our unique insight into the global silver market, we see unrealised potential for silver across society. With world-class organisations, we intervene to create new possibilities and work to ensure silver mining is responsibly undertaken, with measurable economic benefit globally.

Based in India, the World Silver Council is an organization whose members comprise the country's leading silver miners, dealers, bullion dealers and silver jewellery retailers and manufacturers.

The world of silver is dynamic. Its uses are widely-varied, and its desirability is resilient and enduring. Silver helps combat infections and is an essential element in bacterial control medicinally. It protects the wealth of individuals and nations alongside gold. It is a precious metal considered important for future revolutions in science and carries memories across generations and cultures.

SMARTER MARKETS FOR GLOBAL GOLD TRADING

Gold has earned trust across borders for millennia, but the systems that support its trade haven't caught up to today's global flows.

Despite Asia's dominant share of physical gold demand, pricing and settlement infrastructure remains anchored to legacy contracts, delivery locations, and market hours in New York and London. The result: persistent price mismatches, inefficient hedging, and growing friction for the participants who rely on physical gold every day.

Abaxx Exchange and Abaxx Spot are introducing co-located infrastructure in Singapore, including a physically-deliverable kilobar futures contract and a spot physical gold pool, to address these structural gaps and realign global gold markets with the realities of 21st-century trade.

Physically-Deliverable Futures Designed for the Kilobar Market

Abaxx Singapore Gold Futures are purpose-built for the needs of Asia's physical bullion trade. The contract is U.S. dollar-denominated, kilobar-sized, and physically deliverable into approved vaults in Singapore, one of the world's leading gold trading hubs.

Legacy futures contracts remain tied to the formats and delivery standards of Western markets, even as kilobars have become the dominant settlement unit in Asia. By aligning contract specifications with regional trading norms, Abaxx Singapore Gold Futures offer a benchmark better suited to all firms managing price risk in the real physical market in Asia.

As the only physically-deliverable, U.S. dollar-denominated gold futures contract based in Singapore, this product provides a regionally relevant tool for price discovery, hedging, and delivery, while offering global access to a contract designed for today's trade flows.

Abaxx Spot: Modern Infrastructure for Physical Gold

Launched alongside the Gold Kilobar contract, Abaxx Spot is a physically-allocated precious metals trading platform built to mitigate settlement risk in physical transactions. The platform facilitates secure physical transactions, efficient OTC transfers of kilobars, and transparent access through a pre-funded central limit order book (CLOB).

Abaxx Spot expands participation in the global gold market by enabling users to settle trades and transfers electronically through a physically-allocated gold pool, with bullion held in approved Singapore vaults.

By co-locating spot and futures infrastructure in a single jurisdiction and settlement format, Abaxx supports convergence between physical and financial markets, aligning delivery, settlement, and risk management across the trade lifecycle.

Why Now: A Turning Point for Global Gold Markets

Gold is playing a renewed role in capital markets, not just as a store of value, but as a strategic asset for central banks, institutional portfolios, and commercial hedgers navigating geopolitical and monetary uncertainty. Prices have reached all-time highs, and central bank accumulation continues to exceed historical norms.

Yet while Asia now accounts for the majority of global bullion demand, gold's market infrastructure remains fragmented. Benchmarks and settlement systems still reflect Western formats, hours, and assumptions, misaligned with where demand is strongest.

Abaxx addresses this disconnect by anchoring both price discovery and settlement infrastructure in Singapore, and by structuring its contracts around kilobars – the preferred unit for Asia's bullion trade. The result is a more resilient, integrated system that reduces the friction between futures and physical markets, offering tools that reflect how gold is used and traded today.

Building the Future of Gold

Gold continues to play a vital role in the global financial system – from central bank reserves and institutional portfolios to real-world settlement and collateral. But the systems that support gold trading and delivery remain outdated and disconnected from the way gold is actually used today.

Abaxx Exchange and Abaxx Spot introduce a new model: physically-deliverable futures, a digitally integrated spot pool, and shared settlement infrastructure in Asia's primary trading hub. Together, they form the foundation for more transparent, resilient, and smarter gold markets for the 21st century.

Benefits for Market Participants

For physical trading desks, hedgers, and bullion market professionals, the Abaxx system delivers tools designed to reduce operational friction, enhance price alignment, and support effective participation in modern global gold markets.

- Efficient Settlement and Transfer: Trade and title transfer to physical gold electronically through Abaxx Spot, with delivery and storage in approved Singapore vaults. Streamline post-trade operations and reduce reliance on fragmented OTC workflows.
- Aligned Hedging Instruments: Abaxx's Gold Singapore Futures contract reflects Asia's kilobar market and regional delivery conventions, improving basis accuracy and providing better tools for managing directional and physical exposure.
- Integrated Spot and Futures Access: Co-located infrastructure for spot and futures trading enables convergence between price discovery, hedging, and delivery, removing the need for cross-regional arbitrage between New York, London, and Asia.
- Transparent Market Participation: Abaxx Spot's pre-funded CLOB model enables direct access, transparent pricing, and lower counterparty risk, enhancing trust and participation across global and regional users.
- Global Infrastructure, Built for Asia: While globally accessible, the Abaxx system is tailored to the product standards and settlement practices of Asia's physical gold market, where kilobars dominate and demand continues to grow.
